

5

Imagine opening your closet door one morning and walking in to discover that you've traveled forward in time! What do you see? What do you plan to do? Write a story telling all about your adventures exploring the future.

Remember to:

- include a beginning, a middle, and an end
- describe the setting, including time and place
- add lots of details to describe your experiences

Write notes here

Beginning:

Middle:

End:

Handwriting practice lines consisting of multiple horizontal lines for writing.

Did you remember to:

make all sentences complete and clear to the reader

use descriptive words and interesting details

include the setting and fascinating characters

Your teacher has asked you to write about a person you really admire. Write a paragraph that explains why you admire this person.

Remember to:

- use linking words and phrases (because, therefore, since, and for example)
- provide facts, definitions, and details to make your writing clear

Write notes here

Main idea or topic:

| Detail: | Detail: | Detail: |
|----------------|----------------|----------------|
|                |                |                |

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Did you remember to:

state your opinion at the beginning

provide lots of details and reasons to support your opinion

use correct spelling, punctuation, and grammar

Did you remember to:

make all sentences complete and clear to the reader

use strong details and reasons to support your point of view organize your writing into paragraphs